Rev. H. Wright, of Pincher Creek, occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning last. At the close of the service a meeting of the congregation was held when the question of temporary union of the Presbyterian and Baptist services was given some consideration. A scheme was proposed, and a committee of three was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Baptist congregation.

Rod and Gun for September is out and is a special duck shooting number. Roinycastle Dale' the naturalist-writer contributes the opening article, a readable one, on "Live Decoy Ducks and Shooting over them." "Duck Shooting in the Cariboo" is an amusing story of the experiences of two duck hunters who saw plenty of ducks but failed to shoot any. "After the Black Ducks," "Two Hundred Acres of Geese," "Duck Breeding in the Park Country, Alberta", are other stories that give a wild duck flavor to this number, and in addition, there are other interesting stories of outdoor life besides the regular departments devoted to gunning and fishing. W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., are publishers of this magazine of outdoor life.

The custom officers of the province of Alberta will unite and donate enough money to buy a machine gun for the overseas forces.

Cowley Women's Institute

Sept. 2, 1915.—The last regular meeting of the Women's Institute met in the Masonic Hall on Saturday, August 28th, at 3 p.m. Although the number present was below the average, there was a lot of work done and business transacted.

Everyone who wants to have a real good time, get ready for the big Red Cross dance that the Women's Institute is giving in the town hall on the 1st of October. Gentlemen will be asked to pay $1.00; ladies 50 cents and a cake or sandwiches. Proceeds will go toward keeping up the work of the Red Cross.

Everybody come. By so doing you will help us to raise money to carry on one of the noblest of patriotic works.

The cushion which was given by Miss Agnes Hewitt, for the benefit of the Red Cross, was sold for the splendid sum of $25.00. Mrs. Hetherington being the satisfied one who carried it away. The Institute desires to thank Miss Hewitt in the noble work she has done in this thoughtful act. We also thank Rev. Mr. Smith for donating 50 cents to the Red Cross.

The cushion is now taking new subscriptions and renewals for the "Farm and Ranch Review." Commissions will go to help carry on the Institute work. Will you give us your business and let us do your work? The smallest thing will be sure of our most careful attention.

It is not for hope or reward that we labor, but for the trio patriotic, the shanty air and arouse every human heart and thoughtful mind.

The next regular meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the Masonic Hall on Saturday, September 26th, at 3 p.m. Business, Red Cross work, etc. Visitors are always welcome.

Patriotic Concert At Frank

The following programme will be presented at the Patriotic Concert to be given in the Methodist church at Frank, tomorrow night (Saturday), in aid of the Calgary News Telegram "Wounded Soldiers' Fund":

Opening Address by Rev. W. T. Young. 1. MARCH—by Orchestra.

2. SELECTIONS—ORCHESTRA—Southern melodies.

3. VOCAL SOLO—by Mr. Glover.

4. SAXOPHONE QUARTETTE.

5. VOCAL SOLO—by Mr. W. Shaw of Blairmore.

6. WALTZ—by Orchestra.

7. VOCAL SOLO—by Mr. Glover.

8. SAXOPHONE QUARTETTE.

9. VOCAL SOLO—by Mrs. Frank Smith, of Hillcrest.

10. VIOLIN SOLO.

11. ORCHESTRA Selections.

12. SAXOPHONE SOLO.

13. GOD SAVE THE KING—by Orchestra.

Judging by the amount of interest already manifested, the concert tomorrow night will be well attended. Reports have been received by us from all the towns along the itinerary of the Saxophone Quartette of the excellence of their productions. In the afternoon of Saturday a matinee will be held in the church when a general admission of 15 cents will be charged. The children of both Blairmore and Frank should be in attendance to hear a programme which is both educational and entertaining. The Saxophone Quartette will appear at the Lyric Theatre, Bellevue on Monday night and at the Blairmore opera house Tuesday night. Both these entertainments will be accompanied by first-hand moving pictures of the war. The pictures are from the actual scenes, portraying as they do the manoeuvring and fighting in the greatest war in the world's history. No one should miss any of these entertainments. The object is a most worthy one—to provide a fund for the assistance of wounded soldiers who will undoubtedly be invalids home from the front. Come out and do your part. Exercise your influence in the great work undertaken by the Calgary News Telegram.

Excepting 1 and 7 no assignment of the above subjects has been made, and they are suggested as general subjects on which any one may express his views. Mr. Wm. Short, K.C., Edmonton, has kindly undertaken to deal with No. 7.

Let us all wake up and get together this year to help each other. In this way we shall be able to do something worth while for ourselves and others.

Since this letter was written, Mr. R. Marchon, President of the Lethbridge Board of Trade, has consented to speak on the "Inter-Relations Between Municipal Government and Local Boards of Trade".

Methodist Dist. Meeting

The Methodist district meeting took place at Bellevue on Thursday and was well attended by clergy and lay delegates from all over the district. Dr. Riddell, of Alberta College, Edmonton, and

Rev. Hugh Dobson, secretary of social service and moral reform, were present and addressed the meeting.

Charlie Motil has practically recovered from the effects of his recent accident, when his motor cycle gently plowed him against an embankment near Coleman. Charlie says that's his last!

Everyone in town is expected to attend the concert in the church on Saturday evening, and a special invitation is extended to all children, as well as grown-ups, to attend the matinee at 3 in the afternoon.

Robert Dicken was down from Calgary to spend a few days with his family.

Fred Harvey, who left here early in the year for Lethbridge, is back with us again.

Sam Patton came down from Saree this week to spend a few days with friends. Sam is with the 19th.

J. Thomas and Joe Horn left for Three Hills this week, where they will be employed.

Miss Louise Sunstrum, of Calgary, was in town this week visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Boudreau.

The lecture given in the Methodist church on Wednesday evening by Dr. Smetanka, of Chicago, was a decided success. The church was crowded to the doors. Dr. Smetanka gave a brief history of the Bohemian people. All were surprised when he explained the Bohemian situation, of which he seemed to have a good grasp, and we need not go into details here as most every person in town had the pleasure of hearing for themselves. There is one thing sure, the Bohemians proper are with the allies and have several regiments now fighting with France and Russia.

Lowery's Claim

A preacher in California wants to know where we will find the dead. He can find some of them in the stores that do not advertise.

Paddy, the Priest, has enlisted for the war with the 54th. All the German Paddy shots will be sure of salvation.

Near Castle while returning from his work a large lynx jumped on the back of Walter Rollins and scratched his face.

There are only about 20 birds in the Nelson jail. If business does not improve the warden will have to close the dining room in order to cut down expenses.

Large quantities of Epsom salts are being shipped from Orville to the Eastern States. Probably munitions of war to be used against the Germans.

How strange a thing is patriotism! Some men will boldly march up in front of thousands, having no reason for doing so, and shout the loudest and most vociferously—out of two cents by not putting a stamp upon a cheque.

At his hotel in Bridgewater, Tom Donald has a rare collection of old coins. In his younger days Tom was a sky pilot, and the heat around Wyoming thinking that old coins were not good put them on the ceiling of his shop. When Tom had saved a half of them he came west to grow up with the affairs.

Sentiment and Editors

Last week looked like a newspaper editor, expecting to see a addition of how a young man had gone strong. Not a line about the young man could be found. A broken hearted wife or relative had gone to the editor and asked him to say nothing, and the tears had won the promise from him. We have gone through the same thing ourselves many times. An editor is human; he has his likes and dislikes, he loves and he hates; his strength between love and duty is like that of an average citizen. We remember one case in particular. We had let a certain case go by because a tearful mother bowed down with grief had come to us and begged the favor. A bigoted old editor for some time called it a coward for going away. A short time afterwards the shadow fell across his threshold and he came running and begging us to say nothing. "Yes," we replied, "but don't you remember the time you called me a coward for keeping still?" "I know," he replied, "but I was wrong; it is different now." And we listened to him, but there are things an editor cannot suppress. There are other things he can forget with propriety. As far as we are concerned, we would rather lessen the grief of a parent than throw out a morsel for gossiping people to feed upon. We would rather wipe the tears from the eyes of a mother than have "nerves" to cover for keeping still?"

"I know," he replied, "but I was wrong; it is different now." And we listened to him, but there are things an editor cannot suppress. There are other things he can forget with propriety. A Scotch Prayer

The following is a prayer by a Scotch Canadian domine:

O Lord, we approach Thee, this mornin' in the attitude o' prayer, an' likewise o' complaint. When we can't get the land o' Canaday we expect tae find a han' dowl'n' wi' milk an' honey, but instead o' that foun' a lan' peopled wi' ungodly Irish. Oh, Lord, if Thy great mercies drive them ta' the uttermost parts o' Canaday, mak' them hewers o' wood an' drawers o' water; give them nae bread to eat, an' give them nae water to drink, ne'er make them magistrates an' rulers among Thy people, but let them be as bad as the Irish, taks' them over the mouth o' Hell, but dimme let them fa' in, an' a' the glory will be Thine. Amen.

But if Ye have any favorite beatow, or any gold han' tae pie an'a', pictch to Thine, the peculiar people, the Scots. Mak' them members o' Parliament an' magistrates an' rulers among Thy people, an' as for the Irish, taks' them by the heels an' shuk' them over the mouth o' Hell, but dimme let them fa' in, an' a' the glory will be Thine. Amen.

Help Your Own Town Grow

The man who has the welfare of his town at heart should remember the rule he laid practical business men and women comply with the following instructions:

1—Order all your dry goods and groceries from Department stores. It will further help the city bazaar to own their private yachts and limousines while your home overcoat walks to and from his place of business and spends sleepless nights contemplating ways and means to meet his financial obligations.

2—Buy of peddlers as often as possible, they have no municipal or business tax to pay.

3—Buy of other place to get your job printing done.

4—Contribute what news you have to any but your home paper.

5—Patronize out of town papers to the exclusion of your own and denounce them for not being as large and as cheap as city papers. This will keep your local editor humble, tax his brain and call forth his best endeavour to prevent a swelled head.

6—Criticize your minister's sermons in the presence of your family and public and tell them how much more interesting Rev.—sermons are and kindly knock everything to introduce new industries or improvements which may wish to locate in your town, and you will find that the more you do for your village the more as deserved as the village of Belgrave—your property devotes in value and your sons and daughters compelled to seek employment among strangers in distant lands.

No Intention of Revoking Single Tax

Edmonton, Sept. 3.—In an interview given to the press recently the minister of municipalities made a general reference to the tax convention which he attended in San Francisco, and coupled it with a brief observation as to the difficulties surrounding the solution of the problems affecting equitable assessments and tax levying, not only in Alberta but everywhere.

This remark, which was not the main purpose of the interview, was picked up by the principle of single tax was to be abandoned in Alberta. Such was not the intent of the minister. His statement is nothing further from the truth than the statement that single tax is to be abandoned, or that the principle has been a failure in Alberta.

Premier Silton is a firm believer in the single tax as the equitable method of raising money and there is not a shadow of doubt but that it is a complete success insofar as the valuation of farm lands is concerned. The farmers of Alberta would strenuously oppose any change and certainly would regard it as uncalculated for were the members of the government and legislature to take any steps to place a tax upon improvements.

As regards the towns there is no doubt but that the single tax would be a just and improvement taxes to an exclusive land tax worked a hardship on those municipalities which, in the control of real estate boosters, had taken on liabilities and installed improvements far beyond the means of the ratepayers. It was all right so long as times were booming and money was flush, but the moment the slump came and the banks tightened up, these towns began to feel the pinch and it only took one year in which to demonstrate most conclusively that they had taken on more debt than they could conveniently pay off.

To meet obligations it became necessary to pile on the taxes and business men are the victims. This does not vitiate the principle of single tax. It merely reveals the fact that certain towns had to tax unfairly in order to meet debenture payments.

Owing to the exceptional conditions created by unfortunate plunging into liability during good times the legislature last session amended the act giving towns permission to impose a business tax for four years.

Whatever amendments may be made to the municipal laws while the Liberal government is in power there is no likelihood of there being any change in the direction of interfering with the principle of single tax.—Lethbridge Herald.

Sterling Exchange
Makes New Gains

New York, Sept. 3.—Foreign exchange values soared today in an upset market. Opening quotation on sterling recorded overnight gains ranging from 7½ to 12½ cents. The first figures on sterling yards between 4.70 to 4.75. Similar rises were reported to have occurred in London.

London, Sept. 3.—There were further erratic fluctuations in American exchange markets and the market was very nervous for a time. Cable transfers opened unsettled and considerably higher than New York at 4.65 to 4.67. The quotations jumped almost immediately to 4.70 sellers, there being few buyers.

At about noon there was some covering operations which caused a decline to 4.68.60½, where the quotations stand for the present. The rise already has had a detrimental effect on the market for American securities. American railroad stocks are one to three points below yesterday.

The Origin of Scouting for Boys

His Majesty the King is Patron, and the Prince of Wales Chief Scout
For Wales
(Glasgow)

The possibility of putting responsibility on to boys and treating them seriously was brought to proof in Mafeking, where the commandant, Major General Sir Alfred Edward Cecil, then in 1899 and led Colonel Baden Powell to go to him.

On his return home in 1902 he found that the "Aids to Scouting" being used in schools (and by boys' organizations, etc.) for teaching boys. As time had come when it was no longer unsuitable for boys and in 1908 he rewrote it (after an experimental boys' camp held in 1907). It was then published as a guide for the organization of Boy Scouts, but that the Boys' Brigade, the Junior Y.M.C.A., and C.L.B. and the other recognized organizations would take that idea.

However, such a large number of men, especially in the organizations took it up, that it was necessary to form a directorate to control it.

This first consisted of General Baden Powell, Mr. H. G. Smith, and Miss Macdonald as the entire headquarters staff, in a room given by Mr. Arthur Pearson, who generously held it for the organization. They also gave a donation of $2,500 to put them on their feet financially.

The movement grew up of itself, and assuming such proportions that in 1910 General Baden Powell gave up the army and took charge of it. The movement continued to grow, and in 1912 the Prince of Wales became chief scout for Wales. The leading men in religion, education and affairs joined the cause.

Its success is clearly demonstrated in the following statistics:

Scouts in Great Britain and Dominion	290,000
United States of America	300,000
Bohemia	500
Prussia	7,000
Germany	52,735
Spain	8,577
Switzerland	5,000
Italy	7,000
Norway	2,000
Poland	6,000
Serbia	3,000
Denmark	1,000
Syria and Palestine	500

Making a total of 597,832 boys in an organization of which Lord Rosebery was president by the 11th council in 1910 and a Royal Charter of Incorporation was granted to it. His Majesty the King was appointed patron, and the Prince of Wales became chief scout for Wales. The leading men in religion, education and affairs joined the cause.

lads on their leaving the Scouts and going out into life—the most critical time in their careers. For this reason we are expecting to organize a branch "Scout School" at different centres of the province.

As there are many young men who have left the Scouts and do not wish to see down for the help of others the things that life has had for me that have been worth while. I hope to do my best to help them to be born in the country on a farm. I rejoice that my father was, comparatively speaking, a poor man, and that he worked and rejoiced in labor. Where else was he so happy as when he was leading a gang or mowing a field? He was a good man, the cradle to harvest the golden wheat. Work my father believed was good and honorable and he made it so. In this way we hope to develop a considerable nucleus of clean living, honest, hard-working citizens for our country.

There are great many parents and masters, and especially primary school teachers are anxious that the Scout training should be made applicable to boys of younger age than those allowed to join the movement. This propose, if possible, to have a junior branch consisting of boys between 9 and 11 (with a separate uniform) and a distinct course of training, in which the youngsters are safe under surveillance.

"Your money or your life" is the motto of the movement. We have the funds, and we need personal service to develop the Scout scheme for the big world before it. We will gladly accept your services.

What pessimists may say of our future, there is undoubtedly creeping into us a desire to make use of the time we yet on this earth, and to have joy in doing things well. In this thing that counts, something beyond mere business, golf, or tax-cracking, there is a desire to do well.

I loved the gentle old cows, too, and followed them patiently homeward.

In the Scout movement such an opportunity is offered to all boys of all ages, or its infancy, whatever his standing or his inability to find time, there is an opening for every man or woman to qualify himself. It is for a commissioner to administer a district, or as an instructor to those boys wishing to qualify themselves. In this regard, however, there are no badges, or as occasions evening visitor to a troupe. To a troupe, we can find dues for all who care to do something, however small, for God and their country.

It is grand work and sporting work, it is work which you can leave to the master builders, but the love of lives saved for the individual as well as the nation.

Thus regards money, we want large sums to meet our endowment once and for always.

It is against the principle of the movement to beg, and thereby to offend our hosts. The Boys' Scouts are taught that they must earn their funds by their own work.

It is considered by our fellow countrymen to have earned a reward by their results and its possibilities, then we have the right to ask that they join in and give us a helping hand.

Whether you give by cheque, or by mail, or by personal visit, or by mail, it is immaterial. Your giving will in any case be a sign which will hearten the workers, continue their efforts, and give you pleasure, too, with what will strengthen their full of joy, for happiness is the right of every soul.

It comes easily from a consciousness of the strength and goodness of life; from a consciousness of having done something well; from an enjoyment of the sun, water, fishes and food. Some of the can be as joyful in the child as in the adult, and the more friends to see; the ability to appreciate fine art, to get hungry and to have good food.

6,500 Miles to See Husband

A wife who has travelled 6,500 miles from Canada to the United States to see her Canadian women and children who have come over to England to visit their relatives and friends of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Many of them, like the troops, have come from remote and faraway districts of Canada. Among the most remarkable are those from the north who had to make a trip of a month's duration to reach the recruiting stations, the rank and file, and the men and women, and difficult by canoe.

The Canadian general council is financed by a hundred thousand dollars a year subscription raised by H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught. This fund totals about $60,000 to be used in furthering the movement and placing it on a firm foundation. This is for the general fund only.

Each province is being assisted financially from this fund.

The description for the general fund came from:

Ontario (app.) $28,000 Quebec 15,000 Dominion Government 15,000 Other parts of Canada 2,000

It is of course undoubtably true that every Canadian Scout, and indeed every Canadian Scout, has a fund set aside every time he receives a tip for services rendered or performs some act of gallantry; he is advertising the benefit of the movement, and at the same time in these days, without the aid of the press, the movement could not possibly have become so widely known, and hence and been so generally appreciated.

We wish, therefore, to thank and commend the press, and other members of the press for the kind notices so frequently appearing in their columns and for their efforts to keep the movement alive and great imperial work. If they care to continue their kindly attitude may we suggest for their notice that to continue their work need two essentials—Men and Means.

We stand on the threshold with a glad heart.

The principal lines on which we propose to develop at a first step should the required funds be forthcoming, would be:

1. Training of Scoutmasters.
2. Organization of Senior Scouts.
3. Organization of Wolf Cubs.
4. Organization of adequate provincial headquarters.

Glad That His Boyhood Was Spent on the Farm

By Anna E. Winge, of Inverna, British Columbia

There are many young men who have been brought up to believe that they have been worth while. I hope to do my best to help them to be born in the country on a farm. I rejoice that my father was, comparatively speaking, a poor man, and that he worked and rejoiced in labor. Where else was he so happy as when he was leading a gang or mowing a field?

He was a good man, the cradle to harvest the golden wheat. Work my father believed was good and honorable and he made it so. In this spirit I hope to help him in his work.

As a lad I was very much interested in the garden, and I enjoyed myself morally and to the best of my ability to have a good time. I hope to do my best to help them to have a good time.

Cold-Pack Canning

BETTER FRUITS AND VEGETABLES BY QUICK AND SURE METHOD

By Anna May Sloman, in the Country

In these days of advancing prices of nearly all food products the careful housewife should learn to utilize the garden products that would ordinarily go to waste, the growth of which vegetables are the best for the cold-pack method of home canning.

The establishment of the home canning club in the neighborhood of a city or town is a good idea, and the instructions of the home canning clubs in charge of home-canning clubs of the Northern, Central and Western States should be followed in the various classes: Soft fruits, such as peaches, berries, plums and the like; sour berries, fruit preserves, currants, gooseberries, and cranberries; fruit juices, such as apples and pears; and citrus-fruits.

These fruits are to be cooled to room temperature before being packed in jars, the lids being tightened and the covers being sterilized.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

(Coal mining rights of the District, in the Yukon Territories, the Northwest Territories, the Province of Alberta, and the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 250 acres may be leased at one time.)

An application for a lease must be made by the applicant in the person of the Agent or Sub-Agent, or in the name of the company to whom they are situated.

In a mining territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unincorporated areas the tract must be described by the cost of the land and the name of the owner.

The lease must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the right is relinquished before the expiration of the lease.

A royalty shall be paid on the marketable output of the mine at the rate of 5% per cent.

The person operating the mine shall furnish all labor and materials necessary to develop the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and to keep the mine in working order. If the mining rights are not being operated, such returns shall be made to the cost of the original investment.

The lease must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the right is relinquished before the expiration of the lease.

The full information application should be made to the Agent or Sub-Agent or to the Interior, Ottawa, to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

The obituary column of a Nova Scotia paper contains the announcement of the happy marriage of a well-known young couple. So many good things had to be said that the editor classified the item as an obituary notice.

We had just donned our new glasses on Monday, when about eleven of the clock we noticed a well-dressed, plump, and respectable young man of twenty-six down-east summers crawling in over the high window ledge leading to the parlor of a young lady who had turned the key to enjoy a morning's nap. Just then our camera burst and we were unable to secure a snap for reproduction in this issue.

Everyone is harvesting full swing. A couple of light showers during the week held up operations for a short time, but on the whole the weather has been all that could be expected. Much of the grain is down and causes the cutting to be much more difficult. Threshing will commence next week, and then there will start an awful scramble among the farmers to see who can boast of the largest yield. Already one man claims of having to make six stacks from a hundred acres before he could find room to stock the rest.
